Monday, May 10. 1708.

London, May 10.

The following Memorial was presented to the Swedish Regency at Stockholm, by Mr. Jackson Her Majesty's Commissary there.

THE underwritten Commissary of Her Majesty of Great Britain at this Court finds himself in Duty oblig'd, on Occasion of the French Resident M. Campredon's late Notification, to Represent to your Excellencies and the Royal Chancery, that it is most evident by the aforesaid Resident's Declaration his Master has Form'd a Design and Conspiracy against Her Majesty, my most Gracious Mistress's Royal Person and Government, in that the said M. Campredon has Notified the King his Master's Resolution to Set up and Assist in an Hostile Manner a Private and Obscure Person, to whom he gives the Title of King of Great Britain, in Opposition to Her Majesty my most Gracious Mistress's undoubted Right: and although I firmly trust, that Almighty God will continue henceforward to Protect her Majesty's Sacred Person and Government in the same Manner he has hitherto signally done, and cause all the unjust Attempts of her Enemies to terminate in their own Ruin and Destruction; Nevertheless in regard this Attempt of the French King is, in the highest degree, directly contrary to the Treaties and Alliances betwixt Her Royal Majesty of Great Britain and His Royal Majesty of Sweden, Therefore Her Majesty, my most Gracious Queen, cannot expect less, than that your Excellencies and the Royal Chancery should shew your Abhorrence of the Notified unjust Design of the French King, and accordingly give his Resident such an Answer as your Excellencies and the Royal Chancery find agreeable to the Treaties subsisting between the two Crowns of Great Britain and Sweden; Whereby your Excellencies and the Royal Chancery will strengthen the sincere Amity and Friendship which Her Majesty my most Gracious Queen has on all Occasions, given Proof of Her having for His Swedish Majesty's Royal Person. And it is further my Desire, that your Excellencies and the Royal Chancery will be pleas'd to Favour me with such an Answer hereto, as I can not only transmit to my most Gracious Mistress, but may likewise serve for my own Justification in having perform'd my humble Duty on this Occasion, Stockholm, March 16.

B. JACKSON.

From the Leiden Gazette &c dated May 15.

Turin, April 25. The Preparations for the approaching Campaign are continu'd with all Application. The 10th of next Month the Troops are to begin to encamp; the Emperour's and those of the other Allies expected by that Time from Italy, between Buzzolino and Suza, and those of our Duke between Pignerol and the Wood of Marglia. Our Cavalry have likewise Orders to draw out of their Quarters and canton along the River Stura; and two Regiments with some Ingeniers are sent towards Buzzolino, to mark out a Camp. 5 or 6 Battallions are detach'd towards the Valley of Aoste, with Orders to take possession of divers Passes and intrench themselves in them, to the End they may narrowly observe the Motions of the French Troops, who grow numerous in Savoy. His Royal Highness is so well satisfied with the Services of Major-General Belcastel, that before he set out to embark for Catalonia he presented him with a Set of Plate for his Table worth 3000 Crowns; and that General appear'd to be extremely sensible of the Distinction with which his Royal Highness always treated him. The Baron de Valse, who in stopping the Coach-Horses that ran away with our two Princes was much hurt, is out of Danger. For that extraordinary Service the Grandmother and Mother of the Princes, have each of them sent him a fine Diamond-Ring; and the Duke has given him a Commandery of a considerable Yearly Revenue.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated May 17.

Turin, April 28. The Enemy begin to draw out of Dauphine into Savoy. From Milan 'tis advis'd, that the Pope having sent for Cardinal Archinto, Archbishop of that City, to Rome, to the End he might avoid Complimenting the Queen of Spain in her Passage to Genoa, his Eminency has return'd Answer, that he cannot leave that City, till her Catholick Majesty has pass'd through it. Yesterday 8000 Men of the Troops of the Allies, which Winter'd in Italy, pass'd the River Sesia near Verceili, and are now marching towards the Camp mark'd out at Buzzolino.

From the Amsterdam Courant &c dated May 15.

Milan, May 1. The Marquis de Prie, the Emperour's Plenipotentiary and Commissary of War in Italy, has dispatch'd from hence divers Gentlemen to all the Italian Princes and States that hold Lands in Fee of the Emperour, to demand of them new Contributions, to a greater Sum than what they furnish'd last Year. 'Tis said the Government of the Mantuan, in Affairs both Civil and Military, is conferr'd on this Marquis; and that the Prince of Hesse Darmstadt is made Governor of our Castle; in the Room of General Colmenero, who some say will be employ'd this Summer in Catalonia. Preparations are making here for the Reception of the Queen of Spain, but to save unnecessary Expence no triumphal Arches will be erected. The 6000 Imperialists commanded by General Zumjungen, march with that Expedition for Piemon, that they are already out of this State; where the Palatine Troops that are coming from Naples with the Duke of Escalona and 4 other Prisoners of Note, are expected in a few Days.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated May 15.

Strasbourg, May 4. To Morrow the Marshal de Villars (who is a little indispos'd) sets out from hence for the Court. The Officers give out, that on the Arrival of the Elector of Bavaria (who is expected the 20th Instant) our Army will pass the Rhine. Yesterday several large Boats were sent down to Fort-Louis for laying a Bridge over the Rhine.

From the Amsterdam Courant &c. May 15.

Philipsbourg, May 8. The French Troops are mov'd lower down, and are now at Langencandel; and having with them Materials for laying a Bridge of Boats over the Rhine, 'tis apprehended they design suddenly to pass that River. But our Troops are all in Motion to observe them, and General Thungen went Yesterday from Bruchsal to put himself at the Head of the Army, and make all the necessary Dispositions for repelling the Enemy in case they should attempt any thing against our Lines, which he has carefully view'd. He will fix his Headquarters at Muhlberg, whence he may best distribute his Orders. The Magazines of this Place and of Landau, are Storing with all Diligence.

Francfort, May 2. The Duke of Wirtemberg and the Prince of Hohenzollern (two of the General Officers of the Army of the Empire) pass'd thro' this City last Sunday, in their Way to Leipsh to make a Visit to King Augustus. Our last Advices from Hanover, are, that the Field-Baggage of that Elector set forwards for the Upper-Rhine the 5th Instant; and that his Electoral Highness was preparing to follow them in a few Days. Last Week were sent from hence and from Mentz several Boats laden with Bombs-Cannon, Bullets, and 1500 Quintals of Powder, for the Magazines of Philipsbourg and other Neighbouring Places. And we are inform'd those Magazines are fill'd; and that at Philipsbourg a prodigious Quantity of Hay and Oats is laid up. The Troops of Hesse-Cassel which came out of Piemont some Months since, hold themselves in a readiness to march whither they shall be order'd, which 'tis suppos'd will be to the Moselle, where a great Quantity of Provisions is collecting.

those

From the Brussels Gazette, dated May 15.

Frankfort, May 10, Count Rechtere Envoy Extraordinary of the States General of the united Netherlands, arriv'd here the 8th Instant, and will continue here till the opening of the Campaign. Some Cannon have been desir'd of this City, to be sent to the Moselle; which shews the Allies will form a flying Camp there this Campaign. Advice is just come, that a Detachment of the Enemy's Army has pass'd the Rhine and advanc'd to Raftad, which has caus'd a great Alarm, and made the Inhabitants of the open Country fly to the Neighbouring Towns: Upon Advice of this, General Thungen has dispatch'd a Courier to the Troops that are in the Bergstræet, with Orders to hasten to the Army: That General has made such good Dispositions, that we are in no Apprehension of what the Enemy may attempt.

Deale, May, 8. Yesterday sail'd a cruising Her Majesty's Ships the Advice, Experiment, Glasgow, and Danwich. There remain in the Downs Her Majesty's Ships the Nottingham, Swiftsure, Revenge, Dreadnought, S. Albans, Crown, Dragon, Woolwich, Anglesea, Rye, Tartar, and Griffin Fireship.
